Institute of Power Engineers?

The Ontario Area of the Institute of Power Engineers is part of a Canada wide non-profit organization dedicated to promoting the public awareness of the role played by Power Engineers in our power dependent economy. In Ontario we are referred to as Operating Engineers and it is a profession with an early-established history.

Who are our Members?

Our members are mostly Power Engineers. We do not affiliate with any labour organization and therefore are the true voice of Power Engineering. Our membership consists of union, non-union, and associated members. The IPE fosters business relations, provides technical presentations and promotes the exchange of technical skills and knowledge among members.
